

The effect of the multiyear application of animal slurry on some properties of soils T. MAZUR and W. SADEJ, Poland	151
Microbial changes in an acid soil following the application of cattle slurry M. H. OPPERMAN, M. WOOD and P. J. HARRIS, United Kingdom	159
Effect of the long-term application of cattle and pig slurry on yield and chemical properties of the soil C. MACKOWIAK, Poland	165
The effect of fertilization on red and persian clover and on soil humus with liquid cattle manure G. HARASIMOWICZ-HERMANN, Poland	171
Influence of silage effluent on the soil U. KÜNTZEL, A. LÖLOFF, H. SÖCHTIG and E. TIMMERMANN, Fed. Rep. of Germany	177
Changes of the properties of humus in soils irrigated with potato starch waste water W. WISNIEWSKI, S. S. GONET and Z. ZAWALSKA, Poland	183
Effect of long-term application of sewage sludge and garbage compost on chemical and microbiological soil characteristics W. WERNER, Fed. Rep. of Germany	189
Influence of sewage sludge application on the microbiological properties of soil E. GULYÁS, T. SZILI KOVÁCS and J. SZEGI, Hungary	201
The nitrogen supply of soils with different history of manure application and its importance for the growth of sugar beet E. X. MAIDL, Fed. Rep. of Germany	205
The effect of manure on five forms of potassium in soil H. PANAK and G. NOWAK, Poland	215
Problems of the balance of organic matter and organic fertilization in Polish agriculture W. LOGINOW, Poland	219
The effect of soil fertilization with fly ash from black coal burned in power plants on organic matter W. WISNIEWSKI and J. HERMANN, Poland	225
Conclusions Final report of the COORDINATOR	231

WORKING GROUP 6

WASTE MANAGEMENT, LAND APPLICATION TECHNIQUES AND NUTRIENT LOSSES

Coordinator: L. THYSELIOUS

Introductory considerations L. THYSELIOUS, Sweden	235
Treatment of animal excrements and agronomical implications J.-M. BESSON and E. FLUECKIGER, Switzerland	243
Practical experience with slurry application D. BAUMANN, A. LANDMAN and L. M. LUMKES, The Netherlands	253
Investigations into the spreading precision of selected systems for the discharge of liquid manure from trailer tanks with pumps J. HÜTHER, Fed. Rep. of Germany	257